Bass, Jr., Harry W. Bass, Jr., Part II (Bowers and Merena, 10/1999), lot 805.

9) AU50 NGC. New York Estate, reportedly in the same family since 1820; 142nd Sale (Thomas Elder, 2/1917), lot 210a; Waldo Newcomer; William Cutler Atwater, by private treaty; Atwater (Mehl, 6/1946), lot 1634; Amon Carter, Sr.; Amon Carter, Jr.; Amon Carter (Stack's, 1/1984), lot 655; Charles Kramer (Stack's/Superior, 11/1988), lot 317; Michael Keston (Superior, 1/1996), lot 317; Rogers Collection; Mike Storeim via Hanks and Associates; Pre-Long Beach Sale (Superior, 5/2001), lot 4040, unsold; sold to a private collector after the sale; Red Bank (American Numismatic Rarities, 12/2003), lot 938. Walter Breen attributed this coin to Col. James W. Ellsworth before Waldo Newcomer, and this has some credibility because Breen was close to Wayte Raymond, who sold Ellsworth's collection in the early 1920s and could have given him this information. On the other hand, in his column in Hobbies Magazine in March 1934, Elder claimed the lot in his 142nd Sale realized $3,000, the exact sum Ron Guth reports Newcomer paid for his coin, according to the inventory of his collection. Of course, it is possible that Ellsworth purchased the coin at Elder's sale, and Wayte Raymond later sold the coin to Newcomer at the same price Ellsworth had paid for it.
